AND OFF TO SUMMER CAMP THEY GO!

Camp Seaquarium – Summer 2007 runs from June 4 through August 17

Miami, FL – (April 10, 2007) – As summer approaches, parents are already making plans where to send the kids to camp. Miami Seaquarium is making that decision easy having the only camp in South Florida that offers high school children the opportunity to assist veterinarian staff in manatee rehabilitation. Only at Camp Seaquarium children will learn in a hands-on way how to help save these threatened Florida natives.

But there is plenty of fun for children of all ages. Camp Seaquarium offers students from kindergarten to high school alternative camp themes and the opportunity to help save our planet by participating in beach clean-up. “Children will weigh the garbage collected and learn just how much pollution our beaches endure. They will also learn how we can help,” commented Miami Seaquarium Education Manager, Sara Green.

And that’s not all. Students from kindergarten to fifth grade will have the opportunity to learn about Shallow Seekers and Deep Divers, middle school students will alternate between Marine Habitats and Marine Careers while high school students will focus on Dolphin Studies and Marine Life Studies. With these themes, campers will enjoy fun-filled days of education and conservation, animal interactions, shows, activities and much more. Camp Seaquarium – Summer 2007 runs from June 4th through August 17th to camper's ages 5-18.

“With hands on animal interactions, exhibits, interactive activities and an experienced team of educators, Camp Seaquarium offers children a unique and memorable learning experience,” commented Eric Eimstad, Vice President of Sales and Marketing at Miami Seaquarium

Curriculum for each grade level at Camp Seaquarium will revolve on a one-week schedule with additional weeks optional. Camp hours are Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., with optional early and late care for an additional charge. Parents who have more than one child participating in Camp Seaquarium and/or who are annual pass holder will receive a discounted rate. Middle and high school students may include a “Swim with our Dolphins” experience for an additional $150.
