Be a Trainer For A Day At Miami Seaquarium®

Miami, FL- (January 31, 2007) - Miami Seaquarium upcoming day camp “Trainer for a Day” will provide campers the opportunity to experience what it takes to become a marine mammal trainer. Campers will have the opportunity to see a training session, a behind-the-scenes tour of our training facilities, feed and touch one of our marine mammals, and play with the dolphins. Experienced trainers will be available to answer all your questions about what it takes to become a marine mammal trainer and how to get started. This day camp is scheduled to take place on Monday, February 19th, 2007, from 9:00am-5:00pm.

Miami Seaquarium Day Camp programs are an alternative during teacher workdays. The Day Camp program includes lunch, a snack, admission into the park and experienced educators, who will lead your child through a marine exploration they’ll never forget. The cost for the Day Camp Program is $50 per student/ $45 for annual pass holders. For information and registration call the Education Department at 305-361-5705 Ext. 207.

Miami Seaquarium, South Florida’s most popular tourist attraction, is a family-oriented marine-life park open to the public 365 days a year. The park provides visitors with a greater understanding and appreciation for marine life through shows, presentations and marine-life exhibits.

Miami Seaquarium is an accredited member of the Alliance of Marine Mammal Parks and Aquariums, an international organization committed to the care and conservation of marine mammals. Accreditation by the Alliance means this facility meets or exceeds all the standards of excellence for marine mammal care, husbandry, conservation and education.
