MIAMI SEAQUARIUM

Miami – February 3, 2015 – Pink's Hot Dogs, a Hollywood Legend since 1939, has partnered with Miami Seaquarium and opened its first hot dog cart in the Southeast U.S. across from the Shark Channel exhibit in the marine park. This family owned business was named by Fox News as number one in a list of Top Ten Hot Dog Stands in the U.S., and attracts celebrities including Jay Leno, Martha Stewart, and Food Network superstars Giada de Laurentiis and Guy Fieri just to name a few, who love Pink's hot dog that snaps when you bite into it, and their chili, a secret family recipe. This will be the only Pink's location in the Southeast and the only one in Florida.

“Their 75 year history, family oriented culture, guest service and tasty hot dogs makes them a perfect fit for Miami Seaquarium,” said General Manager Andrew Hertz. “The story of how they started is remarkable, and now it's probably one of the most famous hot dog stands in the country.”

It started in 1939 as a love story with Paul & Betty Pink selling hot dogs from a cart on a neighborhood street corner at La Brea & Melrose in Hollywood, California. Seventy five years later, Pink's has grown far beyond a cart and has become a Hollywood landmark and internationally famous, now operated by Paul & Betty's family: Richard, Gloria, and Beverly. The Pink family has expanded its famous hot dogs into several locations throughout Southern California, Las Vegas, Connecticut and Ohio.

Signature dogs on the menu will include the Original, the Chili Dog and the Chili Cheese Dog.

“Bringing Pink’s to Miami Seaquarium is like having a little bit of Hollywood in South Florida,” says family member and co-owner Richard Pink. “We love that our hot dogs have been made famous in TV and movies and are the favorites of countless movie stars who visit our Hollywood location. We're excited to bring that fun and delicious experience to Miami Seaquarium for their guests to enjoy.”

Guests can obtain a $10 discount to visit the park and enjoy these legendary hot dogs. For discount coupon please visit: www.miamiseaquarium.com/deals. Please note that this discount offer is only valid the month February 2015 and is not valid with any other offers or annual pass purchase.
